

Solstice 2017

Written by Jo

Friday, 23 June 2017 16:58 - Last Updated Sunday, 05 February 2023 13:48

We celebrated the Summer Solstice by waking up on the water of a small nearby bay. The rattle of rigging woke me in plenty of time to see this misty pink light. Profoundly peaceful, until the 100+ degree weather on shore brought hordes of swimmers and splashers. Thank you beautiful Amphitrite and Poseidon for our clear, cool waters!